

Two Troubled Souls

A Moravian Couple in the 18th-Century Atlantic World

Aaron S. Fogleman

Northern Illinois University

March 15, 2016

6:00 PM

UW Memorial LIBRARY, Room 126

An exploration of the social, political, and religious structures of the eighteenth-century Atlantic world from the point of view of a Moravian missionary couple, who lived in places as far-flung as England, St. Thomas, South Carolina, Georgia, and the Shenandoah Valley.

more information at mki.wisc.edu

